

Preserving historic Manchester homes awards

Three Manchester homeowners received awards for the extraordinary effort they made to preserve their historic homes. The awards were presented by the Cheney Brothers National Historic Landmark District Commission on May 27 in a reception at the Town Hall. The 2015 winners are: TOP: Richard and Rita Borden for 646 Porter St., a Victorian house that was moved from Spring Street to Porter Street before I-384 was built; CENTER: Karen Golnik for 189 South Main St., the Colonel Iraneous Brown house, believed to be the oldest house in Manchester; and BOTTOM: Paula and Anthony Viscogliosi for 50 Forest St., the former Philip Cheney house, on the Great Lawn.
