Invitation to a special walking event

Saturday, May 4 at 1:00 p.m. Free.

Please come to a community-conversation walk in the historic district, where residents can meet and talk to each other about their experiences living in Manchester. The citizen-led tours are inspired by Jane Jacobs (1916-2006), writer, urbanist, and activist who championed a community-based approach to city-building. The walks intend to get people to talk about their communities, explore their cities, and connect with neighbors.

Meet at the office steps of Fuss & O'Neill, 146 Hartford Road, Manchester. About one hour; moderately paced stroll with conversation at the History Center afterward. Rain or shine. Led by Susan Barlow, Town Historian, and Jesse Muñoz-Poland, member of the Town Board of Directors. We especially encourage residents of the 175-acre Cheney Brothers National Historic Landmark District (CBNHL) to participate. Brought to you by Preservation CT, Jane's Walk, CBNHL Commission, the Manchester Historical Society, and the Manchester Town Board of Directors..
